Talk Price Of Bread And Flour

Top OPA And Agriculture Department Heads Confer On This

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—The government is trying to reach a decision today on whether to allow price increases of a penny a loaf on bread and about a cent a pound on flour.

Top OPA and agriculture department officials conferred on this as the new price decontrol board pushed plans to start public hearings by August 12 on this issue.

Should price ceilings be restored August 20 on meats, dairy

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1.—(P)—Livestock dealers here today sent a telegram to the OPA decontrol board urging an immediate decision on whether the livestock industry will remain out of OPA control after August 20.

The dealers urged this action to insure orderly marketing of cattle the remainder of this year and to encourage feeders to buy thin stock to fatten.

products, grains, cotton seed and soy beans?

Chairman Roy L. Thompson announced last night that as soon as the board has decided this, it will tackle the question of whether controls should go back on eggs, poultry, tobacco and petroleum.

Ceilings cannot be re-invoked on the latter items before Aug. 20 in any event, nor thereafter without consent of the board.

As for the possibility of higher bread and flour prices, an official in a position to know told a reporter privately that a boost in ceilings has been recommended to OPA Chief Paul Porter by his aides.

Agriculture Dept. Must Approve
However, even if Porter concurs, the approval of the agriculture department is required to put increases on these food items into effect.

The recommendation submitted to Porter is based on a tentative decision against restoring the flour subsidy which lapsed July 1. In this decision OPA officials took the stand that the subsidy could be paid again only if the decontrol board votes to restore ceilings on wheat.

Porter and the agriculture department must review this decision too.

The subsidy held down retail prices a cent a loaf on bread and about a cent a pound on flour. Since it lapsed there has been no upward adjustment of ceilings to compensate millers for loss of the government payments.

Amount of Subsidy
The subsidy amounted to $1.03 on each 100 pounds of flour, OPA said. Officials predicted that any ceiling price increase may amount to about $1.11 to offset a rise in wheat costs since grain controls expired.

In announcing August 12 as the tentative date for the start of public hearings, Thompson said the decontrol board will give representatives of agriculture, industry and consumer groups an opportunity to present their views on whether controls should be restored on meats, dairy products, grains, cotton seed and soy beans.

The board plans to hold separate hearings on commodities in each of these categories. Thompson said rules of procedure will be announced by next Tuesday.

Still Hunt Girl's Slayer

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—(P)—Police Lt. Philip Breitake said today a long-blade hunting knife, located and traced by the Chicago Tribune, was "the best bit of circumstantial evidence we have found" in the investigation of the brutal killing of Suzanne Degnan.

The step-by-step running down of the knife's ownership, theft and finding, the homicide squad chief said, "practically puts the knife in the kid's hands."

"The kid" he referred to is William George Heirens, 17-year-old student indicted on charges of murdering Suzanne on Jan. 7 and Miss Frances Brown, an ex-wave, on Dec. 10, 1945.

The Tribune related it had found the man from whom Heirens "stole the knife he used to back to pieces" the six-year-old Suzanne after she was kidnapped from her home.

Having Bill Studied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—President Truman is having the Tideland bill studied before announcing a decision on whether he will sign or veto it, he told his news conference today.

The measure, which has been passed by Congress, would give the states clear title to offshore lands, including oil reserves, within their borders. It provides a federal quit claim to the title.

Japanese Reminded Of U. S. Air Night

TOKYO, Aug. 1.—(P)—Formations of B-29s flew again today over the Japan they terrorized a year ago. And the Japanese came out of their houses to watch them. It was a reminder to the beaten people of the American air might that could put down any armed protest against the occupation. The superfortresses flew today in observance of air force day.

All over Tokyo, the Japanese looked up at the display of American air might.

Round-the-World Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today authorized Northwest Airlines and Pan American Airways to establish new air routes to Alaska, the Orient, and Australia.

Trans-World Air Lines also received an extension to its international route which, in effect, establishes a second United States Flag round-the-world service.

Place Blame For Collision On Barge Pilot

Jury Suggests Warrant be Issued For His Arrest

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 1.—(P)—A coroner's jury today placed blame for the ferry-barge train collision in the Mississippi river near here Sunday night, in which eleven persons perished, on the Zigler barge line and recommended a warrant be issued for Earl William Rogers, pilot of the barge.

Coroner Jack Kelly, who summoned the jury this morning, called four witnesses, three of them passengers on the ferry, and the ferry pilot.

The inquest was held while the body of Gloria Janice Eastwood, 20, was removed from the river about four miles south of Caruthersville. Search continued for the body of Robert Wood, 22, last of the known victims of the river tragedy.

The three passengers testified the ferry was carrying lights properly displayed, but that they saw no lights on the barge. They said they did not see lights on the tow boat.

The Verdict Read:

"We, the jury, find criminal negligence by the Zigler line . . . and we further recommend that warrant be issued for Earl William Rogers."

Prosecuting Attorney Elmer Peal is out of the city and could not be immediately contacted.

The barge crew was released by the coast guard Tuesday night and left town.

The witnesses were Mrs. L. L. Green, Geoffrey Meyers, Claude Vickers, Jr., and Ed Hendrix, pilot of the ferry.

Miss Eastwood's body will be taken to Dyersburg, Tenn., for burial.

Meanwhile salvage crews raised another of the four cars and one truck which were dumped into the swirling waters when the ferry barge overturned following the collision. The car, owned by G. W. Myers, was removed yesterday afternoon.

Plane Crashes, Crew is Saved

TOKYO, Aug. 1.—(P)—The Pacific Air Command announced today that a B-29 which was to have participated in an aerial demonstration over Tokyo crashed yesterday between Guam and Okinawa, but that the 13 crewmen parachuted and were picked up by a destroyer.

Life boats were dropped to the 13 from B-17s of the Sixth emergency rescue squadron.

The B-29's commander, Col. E. D. Reynolds (no address available), ordered the crew to abandon the big bomber after one engine caught fire and a propeller went out of control, sending flames back as far as the tail surfaces.

Eleven Killed in Crash in California

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 1.—(P)—Eleven persons, one of them a woman, were killed in the crash of a four-engine plane, believed to be a Privateer navy patrol bomber, early today three miles west of Camp Kearney, Deputy Coroner E. A. Turner reported.

Turner, who visited the scene of the crash, said a twelfth person may have been killed when the big plane crashed and then burned. It was believed to have been en route from San Diego to San Antonio, Texas.

There was no immediate announcement from navy sources.

BOONVILLE, Mo., Aug. 1.—(P)—After the sixth case of infantile paralysis had been reported in Cooper county, Dr. M. L. Dekroeger, county health officer, ordered today that all children under 17 years old be kept from public gatherings.

The latest victim of the disease is Dolores Ann Cline, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cline, of Woolridge.

Finnell Resignation Goes Before Council Next Monday Night

John J. O'Brien, assistant and night chief of police, late Wednesday night was appointed by Mayor Julian H. Bagby as Acting Chief of Police to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Chief of Police Anson Finnell. Chief Finnell filed his resignation with City Clerk J. M. Gill E. Sublett, chairman of the Police committee, who has been away from Sedalia the past two weeks, returned home late Wednesday evening and learned of the police difficulty when he read of Finnell's resignation in the Democrat. He contacted Mayor Bagby and they discussed the proposition of temporary heads of the department.

Fetters went immediately to a restaurant where the ill people had eaten, in company with police officers and after making a complete investigation ordered a large amount of meats, salads and other foodstuffs disposed of immediately, and also ordered the kitchen cleaned.

The owner, who was contacted, likewise went to his place of business and cooperated with Mr. Fetters and gave his employees strict orders to clean the place up. He also saw that the order by Fetters to dispose of the foodstuffs was carried out.

Ready to Collect Garbage

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 1.—(P)—Some 700 young business men stood ready today to roll up their sleeves and take on the job of collecting the city's garbage in event of a threatened strike of municipal employees.

Charles Kothe, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, wrote Mayor Lee Price the organization was "ready, willing and able to manually collect the garbage of this city, on shifts so long as the health emergency exists."

The offer came as a showdown neared on a demand that the municipal government recognize the General Drivers, Warehousemen and Helpers Union (AFL) as collective bargaining agent for street and garbage department workers.

Mayor Lee Price took the stand in the week-long controversy that the city cannot legally bargain with the union, Gordon L. Shryock, union secretary-treasurer, said he had been empowered to call a strike at any time if collective bargaining rights were denied.

"We are doing everything in our power to avert a strike," the mayor remarked, "but if one should be called we intend to see that garbage is collected."

Nothing More On Palestine, Says Truman

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—President Truman said today he had been in touch with Secretary of State Byrnes at Paris in connection with the Palestine situation.

But in response to a news conference question whether he had been in consultation with British Prime Minister Attlee, the president said no.

(In London, the Evening Star reported Mr. Truman and Mr. Attlee had an important telephone conversation about Palestine today.)

Mr. Truman told reporters he had no comment on the Palestine problem beyond what he had said in a statement yesterday. He announced then that he had called home Ambassador Henry Grady and other members of the American cabinet committee in London for talks on the proposal to set aside special Jewish and Arab zones in Palestine in preparation for admitting 100,000 more Jews.

No Inquiry On Yugoslavia

On another foreign policy question, Mr. Truman said the United States has not made any inquiry respecting published reports of religious and racial persecutions in Yugoslavia.

One questioner asked for comment on a report published in the Honolulu Advertiser that Pearl Harbor is as vulnerable today as at the time of the successful Japanese attack in 1941 because of the command setup. Mr. Truman also replied he had nothing to say about it, adding that he had not been to Pearl Harbor.

Lambert Field Surplus

Club Speaker 'Beats Drum' For Sedalia

Tells Kiwanians Housing Shortage Must Be Broken

Sedalia's Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Ellsworth Green, literally and figuratively "beat the drum" for Sedalia in a talk before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

Green, major in the army air forces, spent the greater part of his military service in India and in the course of his talk beat a native drum he brought back with him.

The speaker said, in part: "Every community must spur its own destiny, some will grow and prosper like a well planned and aggressively managed business. Other communities, like some businesses, will wither and eventually dry up. In the vigorous competition that lies ahead those communities that will prosper most will plan for the future by making maximum use of their resources. The fate of any community cannot be left to chance. It must be planned."

Must Break Housing Shortage

"To my way of thinking the next phase of industrial development in Sedalia is to break the housing shortage. Before we can do much in the way of locating new industries in Sedalia, before we can even go back to our old pre-war program of encouraging salesmen to move here we must have houses to put people in. We in the Chamber of Commerce are being besieged every day by people who find it impossible to secure a place to live and we know only too well how badly we need additional housing facilities in this community. We sometimes have as many as 20 requests a day for houses. Let us hope that we can soon find a way to do something about this problem. There must be a way and we have to find it."

"The greatest contribution that a Chamber of Commerce can make to a community is the sponsoring of new ideas. These ideas are not always projects that are carried out by the Chamber of Commerce. Sometimes it is the Chamber's function merely to encourage other organizations or groups actually to sponsor the plans."

Represents Business

"It is a good time for us to talk about the Chamber of Commerce because it represents business and business really needs representation today."

"Business needs a salesman who can sell, not merely shirts and shoes and sealing wax, but business itself—sell it in a day when every institution is under fire and every practice questioned. Business is the thing that means most to the development of Sedalia. The instrument through which we can sell business is your Sedalia Chamber of Commerce. I solicit your faith in Sedalia's future. 'Let's Beat the Drum.'"

Introduced by Hathaway

Green was introduced by Bert O. Hathaway presiding as program chairman in the absence of Dr. J. W. Maunders.

Birthday greetings were sung for the Rev. L. A. Swan, C. L. Carter, Dan Robinson and W. M. Johns.

Guests were: Cecil Stephenson, Detroit, with L. J. Banner; R. O. Yost, St. Louis, with T. H. Yount; Harry Conney with Henry Salvatore; Joe Benson with H. U. Hunt. E. S. Stockton, club member, recently discharged from military service, was welcomed back.

Comes From Tennessee To Claim Car

Victim Tells How Youth Arrested Here Held Him Up

T. J. Rainey, Nashville, Tenn., victim of a holdup by Edward Watkins, Cleveland, Ohio, youth arrested here several days ago by agents of the Bureau of Federal Investigation, today moved to claim his 1942 Chevrolet coach, which Watkins admits he stole. He was brought to Sedalia by his son, Paul C. Rainey, used car dealer at Nashville, and accompanied by an employee, William Hardy.

Mr. Rainey told local police that on Saturday night, June 22, about 9:30 o'clock, he was sitting in front of his son's office, when Watkins walked up to the car, shoved a gun in his side and announced, "It's a holdup." "Hethen slid in the seat of the car and ordered me to drive off," said Rainey.

Drove Eight Miles

"We went out about eight miles from Nashville and stopped the car. Watkins ordered me to put my hands behind me and tied them. He then walked me about half a block into the woods and tied me to a tree. I had previously given him some of my money and told him that was all. It made him mad when he searched my pockets and found between $70 and $100 in my billfold. Watkins said 'I ought to shoot you for lying to me.'"

"He freed myself about a half hour later and got back to Nashville, reported the holdup and loss of my automobile. It was in all the papers and on Monday night this fellow called me up. He told me then he thought he should take me for a longer ride, and I told him to come on out. I am glad now that he didn't," Mr. Rainey said.

Watkins was taken to Kansas City by the F. B. I. agents and he is being held under a Dyer Act charge. Mr. Rainey indicated the State of Tennessee might also prosecute him there after the government is through with him.

Ask for Vote On Home Rule

MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 1.—(P)—Elmer Guthrie, former assistant fire chief, now chairman of the Moberly home rule organization, today filed a petition with the city clerk asking a special election to decide whether the city will form its own charter.

The petition, signed by more than 800 persons, is an attempt to remove the council-manager form of government, started here Sept. 18, 1944.

Under the new state constitution, only 189 signers are necessary to make the petition valid. The constitution says an election must be called in not less than 60 nor more than 90 days.

However, when the manager-council government was inaugurated there was a provision that the form of government cannot be changed for six years. Whether or not the new constitution supersedes this rule may cause a legal battle on the question.

The petition will be presented the council Monday night.

Must Cut Federal Expenses

Reductions are Imperative States Truman, Situation Is Serious One

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—President Truman called urgently today for all government agencies to cut down on their spending. He specifically named the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission.

"I am asking the secretaries of war and navy and the Maritime Commission to reduce expenditures substantially below amounts they had previously programmed for this fiscal year," Mr. Truman said.

The economy call followed disclosure that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz contend Army-Navy budgets already have been cut to the minimum.

In a formal statement Mr. Truman declared that reductions in federal expenditures are imperative in view of "the present inflationary situation."

The President's statement was contained in a letter to the heads of all executive departments and agencies. It said:

"We must do everything within our power to reduce inflationary pressures. One of the most effective means of doing this is to reduce federal expenditures."

The President made his statement public at a news conference at which he announced he will hold a news conference on the budget at the White House at 3 p. m. (EST) tomorrow.

A Serious Situation

The statement emphasized that the nation's present fiscal situation "is a most serious one."

"We are faced with a continued substantial budget deficit in the present year," it continued. "Even those federal expenditures which are most necessary have the effect of increasing inflationary pressures in the total national economy."

Mr. Truman asked public works agencies "to postpone commitments and actual construction so far as possible, and to keep their expenditure programs within certain specified limits."

He asked each of the departments to review expenditure programs and not to hesitate "to eliminate work of low priority," and to concentrate even on "smaller economies."

Mr. Truman's statement followed disclosure of a solid front presentation by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz against any further cuts in army

Doolittle Points Out Importance of Air Force

Today has been proclaimed by President Truman as the first Air Force Day. The significance of observance is pointed out in this story by Lt. Gen. "Jimmy" Doolittle.

By James H. Doolittle
President, Air Force Association
Written for the Associated Press
In recognition of the "increasing importance of air power in preserving the peace and in defending America," President Truman has proclaimed August 1 as Air Force day.

Thus, the United States Army Air Forces, if not yet a unified branch of the services, obtains its own day of observance along with the army and the navy.

August 1 is the 39th birthday of the AAF, for it was on August 1, 1907, that the Division of Aeronautics was established by the U. S. Army Signal Corps for "the study of the flying machine and the possibility of adapting it to military purposes." The division consisted of three men and no airplanes.

Plane Accepted
Two years and a day later the first army biplane, built by the Wright Brothers, was accepted and approved. The plane flew at a maximum speed of 40 miles an hour, carried two men and set a record by staying aloft one hour, 12 minutes and 40 seconds.

In this, its 38th year, AAF planes broke 21 world records. Stars ate breakfast in California, lunched in Washington, D. C., and flew back for dinner in California. At Wright Field, an AAF experimental plane model successfully withstood a simulated speed of 4,300 miles per hour in wind tunnel tests.

This first Air Force Day also marks the culmination of the charter membership drive of the Air Force Association.

The AFA is the professional society of the Army air forces and its primary objective is "to assist in keeping the U. S. air forces adequate, strong and powerful for the defense of our country by supporting the establishment of an air force appropriately related in status to the army and navy."

Adequate Force an Investment
An adequate air force is the best investment in defense the American people can make. It should assure peace, but if war comes it will assure victory quickly, economically, efficiently and with a minimum loss of precious lives.

During the war the Army air forces drew its personnel from all walks of life and developed these individuals into the world's best soldiers of the air. But with the successful conclusion of the war this group of at least 3,000,000 men and women military aviation experts was being disbanded and scattered to the four winds.

In order to preserve this storehouse of aviation knowledge and to keep our gang together, the Air Force association was organized earlier this year with the

"To educate its members and the public at large in the proper development of air power and to keep them abreast of new accomplishments in the field of aviation, and

Chinese Claim Marines Were Aggressors

Yanks Say They Were Ambushed; Three Were Killed

PEIPING, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Chinese communists acknowledged today that regulars of the eighth communist route army fought United States Marines southeast of Peiping Monday, but contended it was not an ambush and that the Marines were the aggressors.

The Marine Corps said three Marines were killed and 12 wounded when a Marine motor convoy was ambushed by 300 Chinese in a highway battle.

The Marine Corps has refrained from identifying the attackers as communists but flatly described it as an ambush. Headquarters added today that 12 of the Chinese were killed and an unidentified number wounded when the Marines defended themselves.

The official New China News Agency and the official communist radio at Yanan gave their version of the battle in a news dispatch and broadcast today, asserting that about 60 Marines and 80 national government soldiers "made a surprise attack" on communist positions near the village of Anping Monday morning.

Both Sides Suffered

"Both sides suffered casualties in fighting which ensued when the eighth route troops were forced to resist. Towards afternoon, when American reinforcements were rushed to the scene from Tientsin, the eighth route troops withdrew to avoid aggravating the clash," communist accounts said.

The communist agencies then launched into a long reiteration of their demands that Americans withdraw from China entirely and said, "We should demand an apology and disciplinary action from the marines for the Monday battle."

Account for Subs Missing

ABOARD USS MT. McKinley, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Task Force One accounted today for three submarines missing since the underwater discharge of the atom bomb—they are at the bottom of Bikini Lagoon.

But whether the Pilotfish, Apogon and Skipjack will eventually be listed as "sunk" will have to wait until the hulks can be inspected.

That inspection may be long delayed. The floor of the lagoon is strewn with radioactive particles of fissionable material.

The technical question involved is whether the underwater bomb blast merely opened the ballast tanks of the submarines and lowered them from their submerged positions or crushed the hulks and sank them as the surface targets were sunk.

Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, commander of the task force, said an attempt would be made to inspect and raise the submarines if possible. He added that radioactive activity will be a continuing problem.

The admiral reported that no additional ships are in any immediate danger of sinking. He hopes men will be able to get aboard all surface targets tomorrow to inspect them.

Offers Pour in For Family

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The future looked brighter today for the wife and four children of GI Joe Sykes who have been living in the open under a tree the last two months.

Help and offers of help have poured in since news stories told of the plight of the family whose soldier-father was killed in action along the Rhine in March, 1945.

Two months ago they moved out beneath a tree near a railroad track here after fire destroyed their home and possessions.

Today groceries were piled high at the spot where the family took clean beds to them and arranged for the building of a prefabricated house. Cash contributions, too, poured in.

The Veterans Administration, delayed in paying claims because of technicalities, has ascertained that the children are eligible to receive funds. A pension award has been approved for them.

Adjournment May Be Delayed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) said today plans to adjourn the 79th congress tomorrow may have to be changed because of two pending legislative disputes.

The controversies involve a senate resolution calling for United States acceptance of compulsory jurisdiction of the world court, and a house squabble over senate amendments to a bill freezing the social security payroll tax.

The house has passed and sent to the senate a resolution calling for final adjournment tomorrow. Barkley told reporters, however, he would not want to insist on that date if it appeared the senate could approve the world court resolution in two or three days more. The matter reached the senate floor today.

"We may have to amend that adjournment resolution," he said. To this, however, he added the observation that legislative storms not only break swiftly in the senate but clear up with similar speed.

The world court resolution would give the tribunal authority to settle a variety of legal disputes involving the U. S. and other countries.

File Charge Against White

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Manslaughter charges against George White were dropped yesterday, and the 52-year-old show producer pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to stop and render assistance, a felony for which the penalty is one to five years in prison.

White's attorney, John T. Holt, said his client would ask probation. Date for sentencing is yet to be set. Bail was continued at $2,000.

The gray-haired producer of girl show "scandals" in New York and Hollywood was arrested July 20 in San Diego, ten miles from the scene of an accident in which Claude McLeister Lee, 42, and his bride, Lena Ann Osborne Lee, 18, of Santa Ana, were killed. They had been married a few hours earlier at Tijuana, Mex.

District Attorney Thomas Whelan said, "White wouldn't even have been arrested, officials agreed if he had stopped at the scene."

White has maintained that he had no knowledge of the accident until he was arrested.

Turns Aside Questions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Asked whether he favored the re-nomination of Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), President Truman replied today that he was not in Tennessee politics.

Mr. Truman told his news conference his only further reply was, no comment.

The veteran McKellar is up for renomination in Tennessee today. Mr. Truman steered clear of other political questions, even those relating to his home state of Missouri.

He laughingly turned aside the questions concerning Sen. Mead (D-NY) who may run for governor this year.

"Do you expect to have Mead's leadership at your side during the next campaign?" a reporter asked. The president said no comment and laughingly observed it was a good question though.

Mr. Truman will fly to Independence, Mo., Saturday to vote in the Missouri Democratic primary of next Tuesday.

Asked what he had learned about the Missouri political situation, the president said not a word and then added no comment. In a previous news conference he expressed opposition to the re-nomination of Rep. Slaughter (D-NY) who represents the district adjoining his own.

Ship Sinks, All Aboard Saved

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The new 3,258-ton freighter, American farmer, carrying six passengers, 51 crew members and 8,500 tons of vitally needed food for Great Britain, sank last night about 400 miles west of the English coast after colliding with the cattle ship William J. Riddle.

The Riddle, a specially designed ship used in the army for carrying uncrated planes, radioed that she had rescued all aboard the Farmer. A London dispatch said none was injured. The Riddle was damaged at the waterline and her speed was slowed to seven knots.

The London dispatch said she was making for a British port and was expected to dock this week-end.

The company said it had received no definite reports on the collision.

The U. S. Lines said the ship also carried 7,811 bags of mail which was presumed lost. Her cargo included 5,500 tons of buck wheat and 3,000 tons of mixed foods including evaporated and dried milk, dried eggs and lard.

Ex-Governor Of Kentucky To Labor Dept.

First to be Named Undersecretary Labor Department

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—President Truman announced today he is appointing Keen Johnson, former governor of Kentucky, as under secretary of labor.

The president also told his news conference he is naming William L. Clayton undersecretary of state in charge of economic affairs under new legislation he is prepared to sign.

Johnson, president of the Daily Register Publishing Co., of Richmond, Ky., will be the first undersecretary of labor the department has had since it was organized in 1913. One of the first objectives of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach when he assumed office July 1, 1945, was to reorganize the department, creating additional assistant secretaries and setting up an administrative post as undersecretary.

The reorganization legislation was signed last spring and three assistant secretaries were named almost immediately.

Governor in 1939

Johnson became governor of Kentucky when A. B. (Happy) Chandler went to the United States senate in 1939. Johnson had been lieutenant governor under Governor Chandler.

Johnson served from 1940 to 1943, then joined the Reynolds Metal Co., as assistant to the president and last year became the company's vice president.

Johnson was a lieutenant with the 354th Infantry, 89th Division in World War I. He is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. For three years he edited the Lawrenceburg, Ky., News, and has been associated with the Richmond Daily Register since 1925.

Concerning Clayton, Mr. Truman said his duties in his new title will be the same as those he has been discharging as assistant secretary of state.

The creation of the second position of undersecretary in the state department is in recognition of the vastly increased work of the department in the economic field.

Eject Two Poll Watchers

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A ward election official attacked a Memphis Press-Scimitar photographer after a picture was taken in a polling place today and the CIO political action committee reported that two poll watchers had been ejected "forcibly" from another as Tennesseeans voted in the democratic primary election.

The Press-Scimitar said an official, Mike Burn, attempted to wrest a camera away from photographer George Pierce after Pierce took a photograph of a ballot box on which there was a padlock with a key protruding.

"The man told me not to take his picture," Pierce related, "and I said, 'All right.' The photographer said he then made his shot in which the official did not appear."

"He jumped up and grabbed the flash-gun on my camera, smashing the bulb and damaging the reflector," Pierce said. "I tucked the camera beneath my arm and he didn't get it."

R. K. Rounton, chairman of the Memphis CIO-Political Action committee, reported today that in addition to the two poll watchers being ejected from polling places, some were directed to remain from 20 to 50 feet away from the voting booth.

The CIO-PAC sent approximately 150 men and women to the polls when voting began at 8:30 a. m., Rounton said.

The late Philippines president, whose body was brought from the United States aboard the Carrier Princeton, was placed in a granite sarcophagus at noon near the tomb of his daughter.

Record Attendance For Judges Trying Nazis

By Hal Boyle

NUERNBERG, Germany.—(AP)—Shipwreck Kelly had nothing on the eight judges of the international military tribunal.

He never sat for eight months on a bench without a working day off. The judges have. Since last November 20, no member of the tribunal has been absent from the courtroom in the case of Humanity versus 21 men and a ghost. The ghost is Martin Bormann, Hitler's twilight deputy, who is believed dead but is being tried in absentia anyway just in case he turns up later among the living.

The 21 men, of course, are Hermann Goering and a score of other prominent ex-salesmen of the swastika. Despite their long training in Nazi party bombast they have shown marked lack of endurance in weathering the flood of more than 4,000,000 words spoken into the official record since the trial began.

Judges Always There

"The defendants don't always appear, but the judges always do," said Anne Keeshan, Chicago, who has supervised the press-room from the beginning.

"The defendants can go to sleep in court, too, and the judges can't. Sometimes they look as if they might be nodding. But then they pop up with a question ball. I've never caught one napping yet."

This judicial record of perfect attendance is made more remarkable by the fact that the judges from America, Britain and France are all in their elder years. The two Russians are the freshmen of the bench in point of age.

As the trial winds wordily toward an expected verdict in September some 1,500 persons and nine electric mimeograph machines—are still kept busy turning justice's lethargic wheels.

Returning to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—President Truman said today he expects Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson to resume his duties on the supreme court upon his return to the United States.

Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor at German war crimes trial in Nuernberg, is due back in Washington tomorrow.

Mr. Truman was asked at a news conference whether he expected to talk with Jackson about differences on the supreme court, including Jackson's disagreements with Justice Hugo Black. The president replied he expected to talk with Jackson about his duties in Germany.

"Is he returning?" a reporter asked.

Mr. Truman broke in, "Of course he is returning, to his duties here. Why else," the president asked, "would Jackson be coming home?"

Jackson's return tomorrow will be his first trip home since he said in a statement June 10 at Nuernberg that Black wanted him to cover up facts in a case before the court. Mr. Truman told an earlier news conference that he had tried unsuccessfully to dissuade Jackson from making the criticism of his colleague.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Viets, of Kansas City, spent the week-end with relatives and friends in La Monte.

Miss Ruth McCune and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Dill, of St. Louis, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. William McCune and family near Springfield.

George Guthrie, S. C., arrived home last week from Norfolk, Va., having received his honorable discharge from the Navy.

Elvin Lee Marshall, of Kansas City, arrived Friday and is spending a few days of his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marshall.

Miss Ruth McCune, accompanied by her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Theo

"Of course, it's tapered off a good bit now," said Miss Keeshan. "Many more were employed at the start of the trial."

Thousands of Pages

The transcript of testimony and argument now runs about 14,000 pages and is increasing at better than a hundred pages a day.

Indicative of the failing world interest in this eventful but snail-paced drama is the shrinkage of the correspondents' corps from 300 newsmen representing 23 countries to 75 men and women from eight countries. Britain has the largest representation.

There were 249,827 words of news copy filed the day Justice Robert Jackson, the American prosecutor, made his opening statement. On July 1 the daily file dropped to 1,200 words. But throughout the trial it has averaged about 65,000 words.

Non-Striking CIO Workers Wire Donnelly

Appeal for Help In Strike Situation; 'Not Needed,' is Reply

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Non-striking CIO workers of the Springfield Garment company today were awaiting an answer to a telegram sent last night to Governor Donnelly appealing for state assistance in preventing violence at the strike-troubled plant.

The telegram was signed by Mrs. Waunita Pica, chairman of the CIO committee at the garment plant.

A majority of the plant's employees voted in favor of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (CIO) at a National Labor Relations Board election last week.

Rival AFL leaders protested the election and staged demonstrations at the plant, climaxed by a "labor holiday" of AFL workers and a parade through downtown Springfield. Paraders carried "Down With CIO" banners.

An injunction was granted the company against the AFL, but yesterday ten AFL sympathizers were cited for contempt after they allegedly had violated the injunction. In addition, the company has asked contempt citations against Otto Bowles, president of Central Labor Union here, and three other AFL leaders.

"Our girls and boys have been chased and molested. They have to keep up their work. Many of them have families to support. We decided to ask the governor if maybe some way he might help the police give us more protection."

Acknowledging receipt of the telegram, Governor Donnelly said he planned no action inasmuch as Springfield city authorities had not requested it.

"There has been no breakdown in law enforcement that I know of," the governor said.

HAY FEVER NOTICE:

A noted doctor has completed a clinical test on hay fever patients in his practice. 8 out of 10 patients he tested with a certain vitamin product told of grateful relief from hay fever sneezing and coughing.

We now have the product this doctor used. It is Pierce's Special Vitamin Formula. No medicine—it's a special combination of large amounts of Vitamin C, plus important factors of the B-Complex having to do with sound nerves, appetite, digestion.

Test evidence is inconclusive. But you may try Pierce's Special Vitamin Formula with this amazing money-back offer: Take according to directions. Either you get the hay fever relief you want—or return the package to us and get your money back!

Not a powder, paste or glue but a remarkable cool, soft, jelly-like compound that holds your denture in place firmly, softly, comfortably. It's nothing. TASTE nothing. "It's wonderful!" say happy users. At Crown stores in large economical tubes. See, freely! Fruit, Co., Hollywood, Florida.

Problem Now Is Future Of Germany

Results of Peace Conference Will Have Bearing on it

By Dewitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

As the long-awaited Paris peace conference got into action yesterday in ancient Luxembourg palace there came from Washington an indirect, but none the less potent, reminder that there still remains a problem which is vastly more important than anything on the conference agenda—and that's what is going to happen to Germany.

The Washington reminder was the announcement that Britain had agreed in principle with the United States to merge their German zones of occupation into a single economic unit. This is England's response to Secretary of State Byrnes' appeal in the Big Four foreign ministers' conference on July 11 for the establishment of a central administration in Germany to give economic unity. The purpose was to permit an exchange of resources and thus avert the economic paralysis with which the Reich is threatened because it is divided into four more or less air tight compartments.

Expect France to Join
Ostensibly the Washington announcement had no relation to the peace parley. It wouldn't be surprising to learn, however, that the timing of the statement was an inspiration. In any event it was put for the occasion, for the future of Europe depends in great degree on what disposition the Allies make of the Germany which for so long was the economic arch of continental Europe.

Official circles in Washington and London expect that France will join with America and Britain in this economic unit but that Russia will reject the proposal. If that's what happens it will mean that the Reich will be split into two sections—the western part which will comprise the American, British and French zones, and the eastern side which is in Russian hands.

Might Become Permanent
This division might easily become permanent, thus separating Europe into two camps—one under Russian domination and the other playing along with the Allies.

Something of the sort apparently was sounded in the mind of General Charles DeGaulle Sunday when he made his sensational speech calling for the quick formation of an Anglo-French alliance as key-stone of an eventual bloc of western European countries, that will be bound together for self-preservation. He asserted that world security depends upon "future relations of America and Russia."

A somewhat similar thought was sounded by President Georges Bidault of France yesterday in opening the peace conference which is dealing with the peace treaties for Italy, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland. He said that whatever blame could be attached to the failure to keep the peace after the first World War, a "fundamental cause of that failure was that the two great powers (apparently America and Russia) who had taken a decided part in the conquest of arms remained on the sidelines during the solution of peace."

More Important Issues
The five treaties before the peace conference are, of course, important but they are trifling as compared with other issues with which we still have to deal. As this column remarked yesterday, the greatest question of the day is "What are Russia's ambitions?" World peace primarily hinges on this. But next in importance ranks that problem of what is to happen to Germany.

During the Big Four ministers' conference in Paris both Secretary Byrnes and Soviet foreign minister Molotov agreed that the revival of Germany's peaceful industries is essential to the economic revival of Europe. At that point, however, agreement ceased. After Mr. Byrnes had returned to Washington he made a statement blaming Russia for the failure of the conference to reach an accord on centralization of German economy and declared: "We will either secure economic cooperation between the zones or place the responsibility for the violation of the Potsdam agreement."

Russia Warned
At the same time he warned Russia that she was creating "doubts and suspicions" by objecting to a German disarmament treaty. And on July 12 when the foreign ministers' meeting adjourned, a British source asserted that Molotov had stood firm against any move that would have led to immediate settlement of Austrian or German problems.

The question of Germany won't be settled in the present peace conference, but the degree of accord reached among the Big Four will have a vital bearing on the fate of the Reich.

THE GREATEST BAKING POWDER IMPROVEMENT IN 50 YEARS!

Improved WITH... FOOD CALCIUM

Bettors Bakings 3 Ways!

- 1. BAKINGS LOOK BETTER... THE FOOD CALCIUM in the new KC permits more even distribution of the fine, active ingredients throughout the baking powder. This promotes more uniform action — gives bakings the light, smooth texture and inviting rich appearance everyone enjoys.
- 2. BETTER TASTE... FOOD CALCIUM in KC prevents the "overpowering" of the rich natural flavor of other ingredients in your bakings. There's no bitterness or "Soda Taste" when you use the new KC.
- 3. BETTER FOR YOU, TOO... KC makes every-thing you bake with it a valuable source of FOOD CALCIUM — adding 2 to 5 times more FOOD CALCIUM than the fresh milk used in a baking, depending on the recipe. Thus KC joins milk as a fine source of this vital food element.

General Duty Nurse
By LUCY AGNES HANCOCK

XLII

THE two girls entered Sally's room and Norma turned down the covers of her bed and lowered the shades, while Sally sat before her dressing table and thought what a simpleton she had been to make such a spectacle of herself.

"There," Norma said patting the pillow. "If you slip out of your uniform you'll rest better. It's terribly warm so I'll leave both windows up."

"You're being very kind, Norma," Sally murmured. "Why—why couldn't it have always been like this? Why have you hated me?"

And Norma slipped to the floor beside Sally's chair and buried her head in her lap. "I've never hated you," she sobbed. "I was just jealous. You had everything I—I wanted and—and—I—I had nothing."

"Everything, Norma?" Sally asked. "What do you mean?"

"You're beautiful—you're good and—and popular. Sunderlin favors you. Willoughby's crazy about you and so's the Chief. I—I'm a good nurse, Sally, and yet no one ever tells me so. I don't get the private cases—the specials like you do. No one cares if I'm hurt or not. I—I'm so—so miserable!"

And then Sally laughed gently and her arms tightened around the weeping girl.

"Don't be a goose, Norma. Holden," she chided. "We all know you're a good nurse. I heard someone say that just the other day. You have let your imagination run away with you. If I'm popular—and I'm not sure that I am—it's because I like people—like helping them—being glad with them—sharing their interests and worries. Don't be jealous of me, darling," she urged.

"You—you're so sweet!" Norma said, wiping her streaming eyes.

AUNT CLEM had approved of Jim Hallock and she gave her beloved niece her blessing and if her gaze was questioning as from time to time it met Sally's she had nothing to say about the mythical Blair Canfield. Doctor Hallock spoke of her tact on their way back to Linton.

"I like your aunt, darling," he told her. "You know that old affair isn't exactly a pleasant subject to me and I appreciate her thoughtfulness." And Sally appreciated it too.

Richard Gregory was due in Lintonville soon after the Fourth and Sally wondered if his visit had anything to do with Blair Canfield's proposed advent. As the time approached she grew increasingly nervous. Suppose news of Blair Canfield's coming should appear in the Lintonville Chronicle. What could she say? There was always the truth, of course. She could tell those interested that he was not the Blair Canfield she had known. But she doubted if she could carry off the explanation calmly and convincingly. Blair Canfield was by no means a common name. How had it come so glibly to her tongue? She didn't know.

Richard Gregory came to the Annex to see her on the afternoon of his arrival in Lintonville. He looked at her anxiously as they shook hands in the empty reception room of the nurses' home.

"You're thin, Sally," he said, "and pale. Have you been worrying over Canfield's coming here?"

"What do you think?" Sally asked.

HE smiled into her troubled eyes. "No sense in that," he said. "I've found out that he's been ordered back to the Pacific. Winning the war seems to be more important just now than acquiring medals, and I, for one, am glad. Now you look more like yourself, my dear," as Sally uttered a sigh of relief. "Color good, eyes bright and even a smile for me. Carolyn wrote me that you and that fine Doctor Jim Hallock had apparently come to your senses. Allow me to wish you every happiness, Sally. You deserve it."

"Oh, I don't, Dick," Sally whispered, her voice choked.

"Well, anyway, it's yours, my dear, and take my advice and guard it with your life. It's precious. 'Bye for now."

And Sally's heart sang as she went back to her duties in Women's Surgical, which, as usual, was filled to capacity.

"Has someone left you a fortune, Miss Maynard?" asked middle-aged Mrs. Carson, a Nurse's Aide, just now acting as floor nurse. "It must be a big one from the stars in your eyes."

"No fortune, Mrs. Carson," Sally smiled. "Just grand news—wonderful news and I'm terribly happy about it. Anything happen while I was gone?"

"Hardly," the other said dryly. "You have been gone just 20 minutes. What could happen in this waiting room?"

"Good!" Sally replied and turned as the elevator whirled to a stop. Doctor Hallock stepped out and came toward her. And while neither one stopped, the look in both faces as their glances met and clung brought a glow to the heart of the watcher. What it was to be young and beloved!

The Daily Washington Merry - Go - Round

(Report to Drew Pearson in Paris, from his secretary in Washington, D. C.)

Dear Boss: Your sick cow is getting sicker. . . . Secretary for you on the first replacement broadcast. Frank Sinatra and General Omar Bradley follow. . . . Your pal, Congressman May, is still in hot water. . . . Your black cat is still spending most of her day in the letter box on your desk. She doesn't seem to miss you at all—though of course we do. . . . The West Virginia politico who called you a Communist is being investigated by the Mead committee. . . . The Atlanta radio station which had so much pressure brought on them not to carry your Ku Klux Klan broadcast is now feeling happier. Despite the threats of the Georgia Power company, the final reaction in Atlanta was OK.

Incidentally, mail on the KKK broadcast would do your heart good. I am saving all the letters until you get back; know you will want to read them. They came from all sorts of people, big and little, with this surprised me—a lot of fine letters from the south. . . . I have made a survey of how the solons voted on OPA. It shows two amazing miracles: Byrd of Virginia and McKellar of Tennessee voted right down the line for price control and the people. They bucked the lobbies. (Both are up for election this year.) The fight on McKellar is getting hotter. He may be licked. . . . Didn't suppose anything could overturn the Byrd machine in Virginia but he seems worried—at least worried enough to vote with the folks.

How Others Voted on OPA

Here is how other senators, up for election this year, voted on OPA: Of the Democrats, 14 up for election went right down the line for effective price control. Only Democrats who welched were O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Walsh of Mass., Murdock of Utah and Carville of Nevada—and they welched only a couple of times. . . . Of course, this doesn't take in the "Repocrats" like George and Russell of Georgia, Eastland of Mississippi and others not up for re-election who ran out on Truman most of the time. . . . Here is the Republican score card. Langer and Young of North Dakota voted consistently against price control. They come from solid GOP farming areas. Austin of Vermont, another solid GOP state, also voted against price control. (He's leaving the senate in January for the United Nations.) . . . One Republican, La Follette of Wisconsin, voted consistently for price control, except one amendment—dairy products. Three other Republicans split their vote. Knowland of California, Smith of New Jersey, Stanfill of Kentucky. Most of the time they leaned against price control. . . . Wonder what the reaction will be next November?

Did some more checking up on Rep. Franke Keefe of Oshkosh, Wis., whom you listed as a "pocketbook" congressman. He's the guy who voted against national cemeteries to bury the war dead and in favor of using private cemeteries. The Lakeview Memorial Park cemetery, of which the congressman is president, reported a total income of $22,533 last year. This was against $17,396 the year before. Thanks to Keefe's pocketbook voting, maybe the cemetery business will pick up. . . . The Oklahoma newspapers are riding another of your "pocketbook" congressmen, Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, in connection with his getting Ben Fields of the Erie Basin war profiteers, out of the penitentiary. . . . Poor Senator Elbert Thomas of Utah! People are always getting him mixed up with Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma. In contrast Utah's Elbert is a saint.

Things No wat State Dept.

I have been trying to get that solon from New England who handed you the big "exclusive"

John R. Blackstone, Negro patrolman, tendered his resignation to Sergeant George Maness, Wednesday morning. Blackstone, Wednesday evening reported his resignation was due, he said, "because I wasn't treated right by the chief."

Ford Declines Invitation From UAW

To Consider Means Of Increasing Car Production

DETROIT, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co. Wednesday night declined an invitation to attend a meeting with the CIO United Auto Workers to consider means of increasing car production, which the industry maintains has been retarded by strikes in supplier plants.

The invitation had been issued to all car makers by Walter R. Reuther, UAW-CIO president, who proposed a conference on August 3.

In a letter to Reuther, Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Co. suggested that "the UAW-CIO do something about current strikes in 15 plants supplying our company." Asserting that employees of these plants were represented by the UAW-CIO, Ford added:

"At this moment any or all of these strikes threaten to close us down at Ford. x x x You and your union could make a genuine contribution to automotive production by bringing about the resumption of work in these plants."

Studebaker Accepts
Studebaker corporation today became the third automobile manufacturer to accept the UAW's invitation, which previously was accepted by Kaiser-Frazer Corp. and Willys-Overland Motors, Inc.

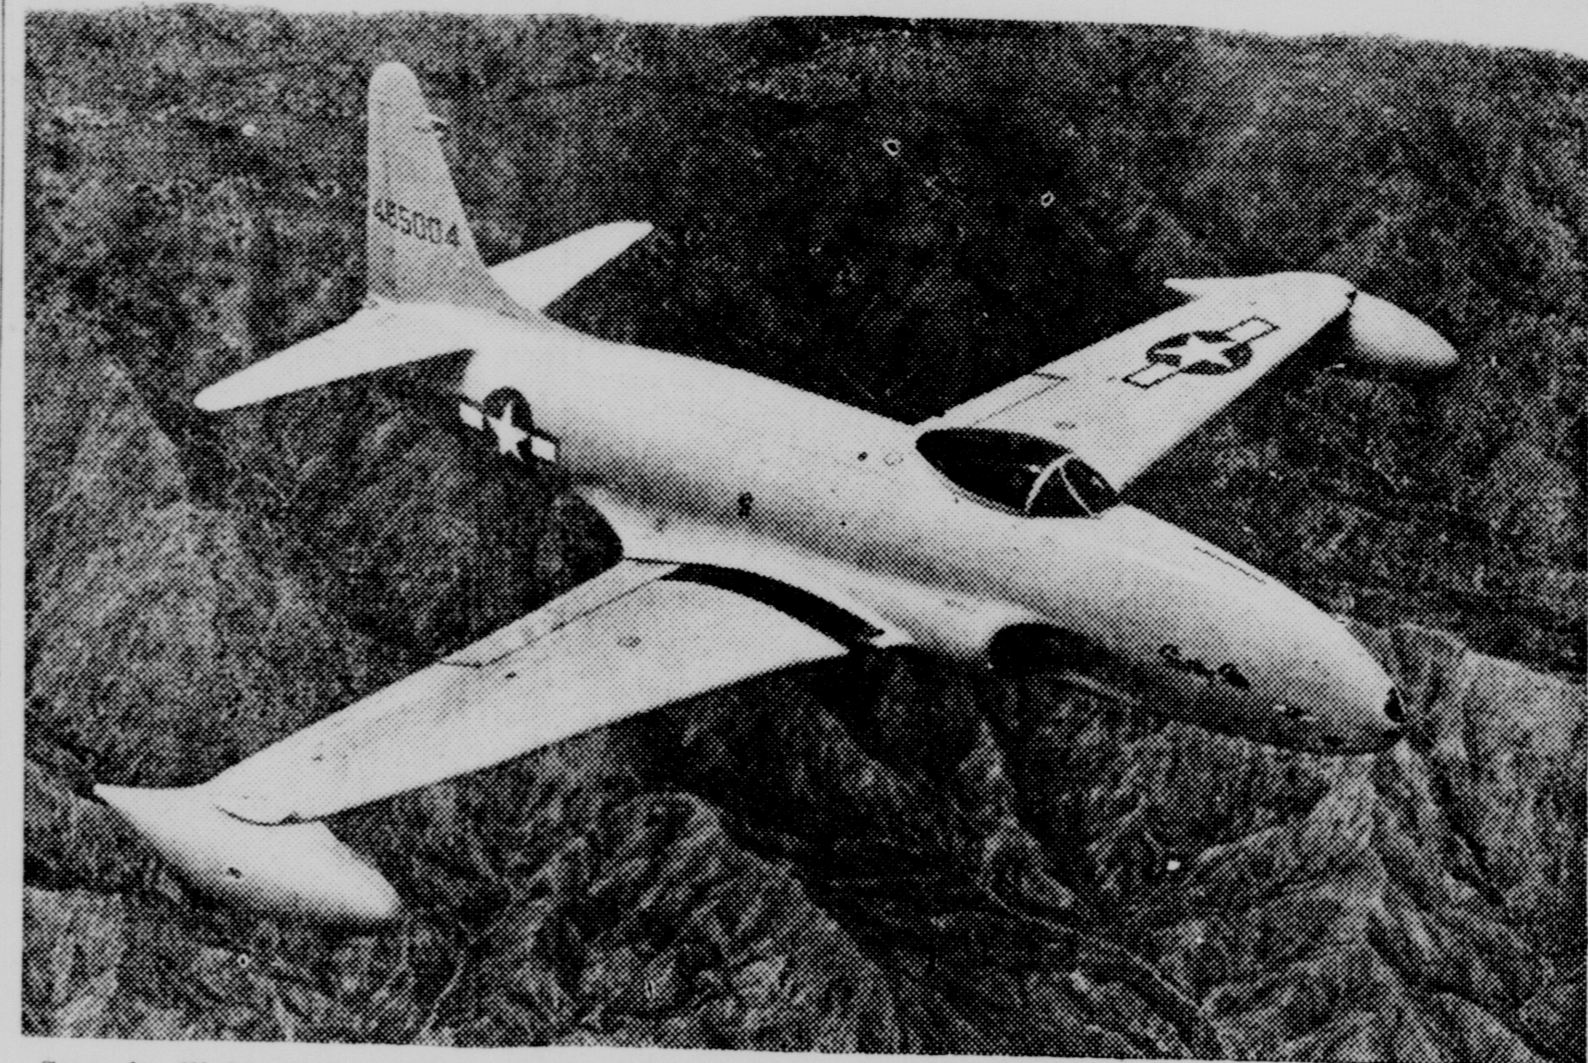

Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker Corp., said in a telegram from South Bend to UAW headquarters that the union's offer "is sincerely appreciated. We want to take fullest advantage of it."

Hoffman declared however that Studebaker considers South Bend "the logical place" for a meeting between the UAW and Studebaker to discuss problems involving the two groups. He expressed belief such a meeting would be more productive than an industry-wide meeting.

"Notwithstanding our doubt as to the value of a general meeting, we will be glad to have a representative present if it is your final judgment that such a meeting should be held," Hoffman said in the telegram to Reuther.

three" has replied to the UAW letter as yet.

In a statement issued simultaneously at the Ford offices, a number of the current supplier strikes were listed. Most critical were declared to be those at the Federal Bearings Company, Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and its subsidiary, Waterbury Steel Ball Co., manufacturers of ball bearings; Firestone Rubber and Metal products division at Wyandotte, Mich., makers of truck wheel rims, and Dura division of the Detroit Harvester Co., Toledo, which makes Ford window regulators, top lifting devices for convertibles and ventilator handle assemblies for Ford.

"If the strikes at eight Federal Bearings or Waterbury Steel Ball Co., continue another five days," said the statement, "production of Ford, Mercury and Lincoln passenger cars and Ford trucks probably would be halted."

Colonel Adams, a graduate of the U. S. military academy, served with the 203rd Coast Artillery in the European theater. Colonel Cooley had more than two years overseas service, in the Aleutians, the Philippines and on Okinawa.

Boy Suffers Broken Arm

George Wolf, 15 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Wolf, 1820 South Prospect avenue, suffered a fracture of the large bone in the upper right arm, about 7:20 o'clock Wednesday night while playing at Liberty Park.

The boy was swinging in one of the large swings near the skating rink when he fell from the swing, more than fifteen feet. Witnesses who were nearby said the boy fell on his shoulder and arm.

Officers Len Maness and Robert Smith in a patrol car were passing through the park and were summoned to the scene. They in turn radioed to police headquarters and Sergeant Cecil Smith went to the park to give emergency treatment. He tied the boy's arm and he was rushed to the Bothwell hospital in a newspaper reporter's car.

Have Lot Numbers Of Shells

Combat Veterans Send Word To War Investigating Group; Can Trace Makers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—Combat veterans told the senate war investigating committee today that the defective mortar shells which killed their buddies can be traced to the manufacturer—and told it how.

One who served in Italy wrote that his 100th chemical mortar battalion "had quite a bit of defective 4.2-inch ammunition" and that he has its lot numbers. An ex-corporal of the 65th chemical company in Belgium reported that he kept records on "a disgraceful number of defective fuses."

And another soldier wrote that "army regulations require that ammunition be stored and issued by lot-number; that a report, giving lot-number, be made of all accidents involving defective ammunition and the faulty round be impounded."

"From this information," he added, "it should not be difficult to find out who manufactured the rounds which caused muzzle bursts."

Entire Crew Killed
This correspondent also reported that an entire gun crew was killed or wounded by a defective mortar shell in tests at Fort Bragg, N. C., in 1943 and that "a full report was made by the field artillery board and copies will be found in its files."

"These reports show the lot-number of the defective round and from that information the manufacturer can be ascertained," he declared.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) also has reported receiving "a letter from Texas which would indicate that a certain explosion occurred there."

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), another committee member, told reporters a "demand" already is being pressed upon the chemical warfare service for quick delivery of the lot numbers of the 4.2 shells produced by the various manufacturers.

Easy To Fix Responsibility
"Once we have those, and the lot numbers of the shells which caused these casualties, it should prove easy to fix responsibility," he said.

The letters from officers and GIs with first-hand, battlefield experience challenged the testimony of Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt, chief of the chemical warfare service, that it would be "almost impossible" to fix responsibility.

They also gave the first information that the defective rounds had turned up in the Pacific as well as the European theater. One reported that at least four men of the 82nd chemical mortar battalion were killed by a muzzled burst on Bougainville Island in 1944.

Another combat veteran wrote that "so many lot numbers were set aside to each manufacturer."

Begin Work on Terminal Pay Arrangements

Application Forms Expected To Be Ready In Ten Days

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—Without waiting for President Truman to sign the bill, officials got busy today on arrangements for paying some $2,431,000,000 of terminal pay to an estimated 15,000,000 World War II enlisted men and women.

The government printing office began work on application forms which are expected to be ready in ten days. They will be distributed to veterans through the post office probably before the month's end, army officials said.

The plan calls for payment in cash of amounts under $50 and in five-year non-negotiable bonds for larger sums.

Under the war department's procedure, veterans will send their applications to the finance offices of the posts where they were discharged and receive cash or bonds by mail.

The method of paying war, marine and coast guard veterans was worked out in advance in coordination with the war department and is believed to be similar, but the navy and treasury departments temporarily withheld details.

Uncertain As To Time
Officials declined to speculate how long it will take for the checks or bonds to be delivered.

An initial rush of possibly millions of applications is looked for. The war department made preparations for a disbursing job requiring the temporary expansion of finance office staffs by hundreds of employees.

Although not otherwise negotiable, the bonds may be used to pay premiums on wartime or permanent government life insurance, to convert one to the other, or to pay a policy loan granted before enactment of the bill. Those retaining bonds until maturity will be paid 2½ percent interest.

Amounts due for leave earned but unused during military service at the rate of two and a half days per month will be figured by the veteran himself at the rate of his base and longevity pay at the time of discharge, plus 70 cents a day subsistence allowance and, in the case of enlisted men of the first three grades—$1.25 a day for quarters.

Cool Weather Has Moved Away

By The Associated Press

A cold front which was to have brought cooler weather over the Kansas and Missouri area over the weekend has dissipated after stretching down into Nebraska from the north and warm temperatures of the early part of the week will remain, the weather bureau said.

Slightly higher temperatures probably will be reported from points in northeast Missouri, according to the weather bureau.

The weather bureau said rain was badly needed in both states particularly in the southern sections.

Missouri had a high of 100, each recorded at Kansas City, Clinton and Joplin.

Truman Advocate Of Anti-Lynching Law

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—President Truman aligned himself anew today with the advocates of a federal anti-lynching act.

His views on the proposal were asked at a news conference in connection with the shooting of four Negroes by a band of white men at Monroe, Ga., last week.

Mr. Truman recalled that, as a senator, he voted for the anti-lynching bill every time it came up and his tone gave every indication that, as President, he would sign such a measure. But its prospects appear remote in view of plans for congress to adjourn soon and the southern filibuster it inevitably would provoke.

Reds Reject As Groundless U.S. Complaint

Declare Allegations Do Not Correspond With The Facts

LONDON, Aug. 1.—(P)—Russia disclosed tonight that she has rejected as "completely groundless" an American complaint that Soviet policies in Hungary were ruining Hungary's economy.

The official Soviet news agency Tass released a Russian note to the United States government saying the American allegations did not "correspond with the facts."

The Soviet government also turned down as "inacceptable" an American suggestion that a Russian-American and British joint commission work out a plan for the economic rehabilitation of Hungary.

The note—which Tass said Russian Deputy Foreign Minister V. G. Dekanozov sent the American ambassador, Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, last Saturday—replied to Smith's July 22 protest against alleged extensive use of Hungarian industrial production for Russian reparations payments and maintenance of Red army occupation forces.

Detailed Answer
In a detailed answer to Byrnes' letter to Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, the Soviet note declared Hungarian reparations payments to Russia in 1945 did not exceed $10,000,000—"an absolutely negligible sum"—and added:

"This alone suffices to prove the utter inconsistency of the allegation contained in your Smith's letter that the bulk of Hungarian output is absorbed by reparations."

Dekanozov's note said that the Soviet government "in consideration of Hungary's economic difficulties, as far back as a year ago made considerable concessions to the Hungarian government by extending the period of reparations deliveries from the six years envisaged by the armistice agreement to eight years."

Plan Accepted
The note stated that Russia had accepted a plan proposed by the Hungarian government for future reparations deliveries under which deliveries for 1946 were fixed at $21,800,000, for 1947 at $23,000,000, for 1948 at $25,000,000, and for 1949 to 1953 at $30,000,000 annually.

"Simultaneously, the Soviet government released Hungary from paying a fine of $6,000,000 for failure to fulfil on time reparations deliveries in the first year of the operation of the reparations agreement," the note said.

Breaks From Wife Jumps To His Death
KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1.—(P)—As his mother and wife looked on, a former navy veteran, Charles Anderson, 36, jumped to his death from the second floor of the police headquarters building here, Lt. Charles Welch said.

An ambulance was on the way to remove him to the veterans' facility at Wadsworth, Kas.

He had been taken to headquarters by two patrolmen who said he was acting strangely. Lt. Welch telephoned the wife and mother who arrived in the office and requested that Anderson be sent to a hospital. His wife was standing with her arm around him when he broke from her and leaped through the window, according to Lt. Welch.

Place Blame For Collision On Barge Pilot

Jury Suggests Warrant Be Issued For His Arrest

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 1.—(P)—Elmer Peal, Pemiscot county prosecuting attorney, said tonight he would study a transcript of evidence and the law in the case tomorrow before taking action on the recommendations of a coroner's jury in the ferry boat-barge collision which took a toll of eleven lives here Sunday night.

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 1.—(P)—A coroner's jury today placed blame for the ferry-barge train collision in the Mississippi river near here Sunday night, in which eleven persons perished, on the barge pilot and recommended a warrant be issued for Earl William Rogers, pilot of the barge.

Coroner Jack Kelly, who summoned the jury this morning, called four witnesses, three of them passengers on the ferry, and the ferry pilot.

The inquest was held while the body of Gloria Janice Eastwood, 20, was removed from the river about four miles south of Caruthersville. Search continued for the body of Robert Wood, 22, last of the known victims of the river tragedy.

The three passengers testified the ferry was carrying lights properly displayed, but that they saw no lights on the barge. They said they did not see lights on the tow boat.

The Verdict Read:

"We, the jury, find criminal negligence by the Zigler line . . . and we further recommend that warrant be issued for Earl William Rogers."

The barge crew was released by the coast guard Tuesday night and left town.

The witnesses were Mrs. L. L. Green, Geoffrey Meyers, Claude Vickers, Jr., and Ed Hendrix, pilot of the ferry.

Miss Eastwood's body will be taken to Dyersburg, Tenn., for burial.

Meanwhile salvage crews raised another of the four cars and one truck which were dumped into the swirling waters when the ferry barge overturned following the collision. The car, owned by G. W. Myers, was removed yesterday afternoon.

Several Ill of Food Poisoning

Wednesday night after several reports were received at police headquarters of persons suffering from food poisoning, Sanitary Officer Raymond Fetters was notified. Two cases were admitted to the Bothwell hospital for emergency treatment and several others were treated at their homes.

Fetters went immediately to a restaurant where the ill people had eaten, in company with police officers and after making a complete investigation ordered a large amount of meats, salads and other foodstuffs disposed of immediately, and also ordered the kitchen cleaned.

The owner, who was contacted, likewise went to his place of business and cooperated with Mr. Fetters and gave his employees strict orders to clean the place up. He also said that the order by Fetters to dispose of the foodstuffs was carried out.

Mr. Fetters stated a close inspection is underway of all eating establishments in Sedalia.

Get Kidnap Honeymooners

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 1.—(P)—A honeymooning couple which kidnaped State Trooper Charles R. Kell at gun point today when he tried to stop them for speeding was captured tonight at Hopewell, where they had abandoned the kidnap car.

First to be taken was the woman, identified by state police Superintendent Charles H. Schoeffel as 16-year old Constance Ethel Blondell. She was taken when her husband led approaching police, leaving her behind.

The man, who Schoeffel said was August Bernard Doak, an escaped convict, was taken a mile and a half away and he tried to cross the Hopewell railroad bridge, which was guarded by a trooper.

Schoeffel said the girl's mother and stepfather live in New York City, and that Doak had escaped from a southern penitentiary Sept. 28, 1945, while serving a 10 to 20 year term for armed robbery.

Sends Message To Italy

BELGRADE, Aug. 1.—(P)—Fiorenzo H. La Guardia, UNRRA director here, has sent a strongly worded message to Allied headquarters in Castella, Italy, in which he declared that "millions of dollars of our supplies are being pilfered" in the Trieste area.

He described conditions affecting UNRRA operations in that Adriatic port as "deplorable and intolerable."

La Guardia reiterated previous demands for authority to call on the receiving governments to furnish armed guards for UNRRA supplies.

He warned that if he did not get a satisfactory response to his demands from Allied headquarters, he would take the matter up with the combined chiefs-of-staff and, if necessary, with "the very highest level of governments" in the United States and Britain.

In a cable sent from Belgrade July 28 to Maj. Gen. John C. H. Lee, acting allied commander in the Mediterranean theater, La Guardia said:

"All details of the hundreds of cases of pilfering and the many cases of entire freight car diversions are now matters of record available to you. There is no use fussing around with this matter any longer. There have been innumerable conferences. The commands in the area are acquainted with all the facts. Either the military government can protect these shipments or else it must openly and publicly and officially confess that it cannot."

Army-Navy Must Cut Expenses

Order Comes From Truman Despite Protests From Eisenhower-Nimitz

By William R. Spear

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—President Truman ordered the army and navy today to "reduce expenditures substantially" below their present programs despite protests from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

The maritime commission also was directed specifically to retrench, making it virtually certain that its plans for seven modern new passenger liners will be cancelled, leaving the United States without a single big passenger liner except for those to be reconverted from troopships.

Mr. Truman wrote the heads of all departments and agencies that "the present inflationary situation and the need for reducing the public debt make it imperative that expenditures be held at the lowest possible level."

Orders Specific Reductions
In addition to the general instructions to all department heads, the President sent directions for specific reductions to some of them. In this connection he listed the war, and navy departments and the maritime commission.

Eisenhower and Nimitz have protested to the advisory board of Dr. John R. Steelman's Reconversion Office that these spending plans, already reduced below original budget estimates, cannot safely be trimmed any further. Steelman had proposed that the bulk of the proposed reductions come from the armed services.

Eisenhower declared the army will need $200,000,000 more than its present appropriation to cover pay increases.

The President wrote that "it is the intention of the congress and of the administration that the recent civilian pay increase be absorbed to a very considerable extent. I believe this can be done if active attention is given to all feasible methods of improving personnel utilization. Economies and short cuts should be introduced in all operations."

Other Steps Ordered
General steps which the chief executive ordered included:

Postponement of public works; Deferment at least until next January of purchases of automobiles, office equipment, building materials and other scarce items; Attention even to the "smaller economies."

The President did not disclose what the specific reductions were which he proposed to the army and navy and the maritime commission. He announced a special news conference on the budget will be held at 3 p. m. (EST) (2 p. m. CST) tomorrow.

The maritime commission, however, already had indicated its intention to cancel the plans for the seven liners. These are two 900-foot vessels, biggest ever built in this country, for the American President Lines' Pacific Service; three fast Mediterranean liners for the American Export Line, and two ships for the Latin American route to be operated by Moore-McCormack.

Compromise SS Measure

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—A compromise Social Security bill, freezing the old age insurance tax at one percent and providing larger federal grants for needy persons in all states, was agreed upon tonight by a house senate conference committee.

The action blasted away what appeared to be the last major barrier to congressional adjournment by tomorrow night.

Under the compromise, approximately 2,000,000 aged persons and 75,000 blind persons would get five extra federal dollars a month beginning October 1.

Eighteen-Year-Olds Must Register

Miss Erni Ann McClure, clerk of the Pettis County Selective Service Board, stated Thursday that all young men reaching the age of 18 must register on their eighteenth birthday, and those failing to do so are subject to prosecution by federal law.

If their birthday falls on Saturday or Sunday they must register on the following Monday.

Although they will not be called until they are nineteen years old, Miss McClure said, they are required under the Selective Service law to register on the day they become eighteen.

Religious Publishing House Must Pay Tax

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 1.—(P)—The rich St. Louis properties of The Concordia Publishing House, a subsidiary of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, were held to be taxable in an opinion of the Missouri supreme court today.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(P)—Al-sico Alberti went to many doctors complaining of "ripping pains" in the chest" but they assured him he was in good condition for a man of 82.

Still he worried more and more, said his daughter, Anita.

Sunday he swallowed three bottles of a liquid his doctor said was poisonous along with six sleeping pills, two beers and a pint of whisky. He was rushed to a hospital.

Shortly after he was released yesterday, a motorist saw him climb a fence and leap into the East river. He was pulled from the water and taken to a hospital suffering from submersion.

An attendant making his rounds early today thought the old man was sleeping but quickly switched on the light when he saw a dark stain on the pillow.

Alberti's throat had been cut with a razor blade and he was dead.

Chief medical examiner Thomas A. Gonzales said it was suicide.

Club Speaker 'Beats Drum' For Sedalia

Tells Kiwanians Housing Shortage Must Be Broken

Sedalia's Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Ellsworth Green, literally and figuratively "beat the drum" for Sedalia in a talk before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

Green, major in the army air force, spent the greater part of his military service in India and in the course of his talk beat a native drum he brought back with him.

The speaker said, in part: "Every community must spur its own destiny, some will grow and prosper like a well planned and aggressively managed business. Other communities, like some businesses, will wither and eventually dry up. In the vigorous competition that lies ahead those communities that will prosper most will plan for the future by making maximum use of their resources. The fate of any community cannot be left to chance. It must be planned."

Must Break Housing Shortage
"To my way of thinking the next phase of industrial development in Sedalia is to break the housing shortage. Before we can do much in the way of locating new industries in Sedalia, before we can even go back to our old pre-war program of encouraging salesmen to move here we must have houses to put people in. We in the Chamber of Commerce are being besieged every day by people who find it impossible to secure a place to live and we know only too well how badly we need additional housing facilities in this community. We sometimes have as many as 20 requests a day for houses. Let us hope that we can soon find a way to do something about this problem. There must be a way and we have to find it."

"The greatest contribution that a Chamber of Commerce can make to a community is the sponsoring of new ideas. These ideas

Hurrah For Our Side - Sedalia

Courtesy on the Road Campaign To Speed Freight

Perhaps the best one word definition of civilization is courtesy; for courtesy is the epitome of all that is implied in the golden rule.

Many of the tragedies that have occurred on our highways have been due to lack of courtesy. The very foundation of our American civilization is built on the solid rock of equal rights.

Our highways are common property planned and built for the convenience and pleasure of the people as a whole. No one has the right to deprive any individual of that convenience, but bad Americanism.

It is merely courtesy to give approaching vehicles ample clearance just as you would give other pedestrians if you were afoot. It is courtesy to slow down and exercise caution when approaching children at play. It is courtesy to those in the car behind to signal with the hand when slowing down, turning or stopping.

It is courtesy to be alert when passing streetcars or other vehicles or when entering or crossing main thoroughfares. It is courtesy to everyone to observe the warnings, cautions and instructions on the safety signs along the road.

It is courtesy to drive sanely and safely, adjusting speed to that of the stream of traffic. It is courtesy to slow down on curves and on slippery roads.

It is only courtesy to dim your headlights at night when meeting approaching traffic or when following another vehicle at close range.

No courtesy could be more gracious than the cleaning of wind shields, headlights, rear-view mirrors and license plates.

A discourteous driver is always a poor driver no matter how many fancy driving tricks he may have or how cleverly he may show them off.

There is a truck driver who has driven nearly 300,000 miles between two Missouri cities without even a slight accident. When asked the secret of his driving he answered, "I always give the other fellow a break." That may not be elegant English but it expresses courtesy of the highest order.

"Your Highway Patrolman."

Sammy House Pitcher For Burnett Credited With Eighteen Strike-Outs During Game

The Sedalia Ramblers, sponsored by Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, bowed in defeat to the Burnett Meat Co., of Kansas City Saturday night, in the final game of the 1946 Missouri State Semi-Pro baseball tournament. Burnett, undefeated in any games in the tournament, became the Missouri champions. The now must play the Arkansas State champions in a five-game playoff series for the right to go to the National Baseball Congress tournament at Wichita, Kansas, in August.

The Ramblers just didn't have the stuff against the more superior team. Then too there was just too much Sammy House on the mound for the Meat Company, his pitching was superb resulting in eighteen strikeouts.

Burnett jumped into a lead in the top half of the first inning. They never missed a chance to score, in fact took some chances which unnerved the Ramblers. Again in the third it was repeated, in fact it was Bankhead, Burnett's short stop, who scored both of them. Two more came up in the fifth and three in the sixth. Bankhead scored one of these runs for a total himself of three.

Three Got Safeties

Sedalia batters just could not get their batting up to working and House continued to put it across where they couldn't hit it. However, Taylor, Smith and G. Thompson did get safeties.

Paul Evans came in to relieve White in the sixth inning. White was doing alright up until this inning, when the fireworks broke loose. And it was all White's fault. The Sedalians did

Reiser Hurt As Cardinals Beat Dodgers

Reiser Suffers A "Slight Concussion" As Cards Win 3 to 1

By Jack Hand
BROOKLYN, Aug. 1.—(P)—Howie Pollet strode from the Cardinal bullpen in a drizzling rain today to put down a threatening Brooklyn uprising and preserve a 3-1 St. Louis victory that sliced the Dodgers' National League lead to 1½ games.

Called into action when the Dodgers had Harry (the Cat) Brecheen rocking and reeling in the eighth inning, Pollet, who had been beaten in the series opener Tuesday night calmly disposed of the threat and proceeded to shut the door on the face of the Dodgers.

Perhaps even more important to Brooklyn fans than the disappointing setback, their 11th in 15 meetings with the St. Louis gang, was the loss of left fielder Pete Reiser who was carried from the field on a stretcher after banging into the left field wall trying desperately to make a catch on Whitey Kurowski's double in the fifth.

Reiser was rushed to Peck Memorial hospital where his injury, was listed as a "slight concussion" on a hasty preliminary examination. There was no estimate of how long the slugger would be out of the Dodger lineup, but it appeared certain it would be for at least two or three days.

Three innings after Reiser had thumped his head against the barrier, left fielder Erv Dusak of the Cards made a leaping stab of a drive off the bat of Joe Medwick, who replaced Reiser, came to bat. Although Eddie McKiss, who had a lift when he forced pinch runner Joe Tepsic at second, was able to score after the catch, Dusak's great play helped stall the spurt. When Dixie Walker lashed a single to right manager Eddie Dyer called in Pollet who made Carl Furillo loft a 3-2 pitch to Red Schoendienst for the third out.

Pollet put the cooler on the Brooks in the ninth after Rookie Catcher Bruce Edwards opened with a smashing single. The next three men were retired in quick succession and Pollet had adequate revenge for Tuesday's setback.

Brecheen, the Red Bird starter, picked up his eighth victory on the three early St. Louis runs. Enos Slaughter's eighth homer, over the right field scoreboard, broke a scoreless duel with lefty Vic Lombardi in the second frame.

Marty Marion's single followed by Catcher Del Rice's booming triple over Furillo's head added another in the fourth after two were out. When Lombardi muffed Brecheen's dribbler to the box for an error, Rice scored the final Cardinal tally.

By taking two of three games from the Brooks at Ebbets Field, the challenging Cards gained a full length on the leaders. They move on to Philadelphia while the Dodgers prepare to entertain Cincinnati.

Although the series was a flop from Branch Rickey's boys, the turnstiles spun a merry tune for 88,075 paid admissions, sending the Brook home attendance well above the million mark.

Ex-Governor Of Kentucky To Labor Dept.

First to be Named Undersecretary Labor Department

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—President Truman announced today he is appointing Keen Johnson, former governor of Kentucky, as under secretary of labor.

The president also told his news conference he is naming William L. Clayton undersecretary of state in charge of economic affairs under new legislation he is prepared to sign.

Johnson, president of the Daily Register Publishing Co., of Richmond, Ky., will be the first undersecretary of labor the department has had since it was organized in 1913. One of the first objectives of Secretary of Labor Schwelbensch July when he assumed office July 1, 1945, was to reorganize the department, creating additional assistant secretaries and setting up an administrative staff as undersecretary.

The reorganization legislation was signed last spring and three assistant secretaries were named almost immediately.

Johnson became governor of Kentucky when A. B. (Happy) Chandler went to the United States senate in 1939. Johnson had been lieutenant governor under Governor Chandler.

Johnson served from 1940 to 1943, then joined the Reynolds Metal Co., as assistant to the president and last year became the company's vice president.

Johnson was a lieutenant with the 354th Infantry, 89th Division in World War I. He is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. For three years he edited the Lawrenceburg, Ky., News, and has been associated with the Richmond Daily Register since 1925.

Concerning Clayton, Mr. Truman said his duties in his new title will be the same as those he has been discharging as assistant secretary of state.

The creation of the second position of undersecretary in the state department is in recognition of the vastly increased work of the department in the economic field.

Account for Subs Missing

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY Aug. 1.—(P)—Task Force One accounted today for three submarines missing since the underwater discharge of the atom bomb—they are at the bottom of Bikini Lagoon.

But whether the Pilotfish, Apogon and Skipjack will eventually be listed as "sunk" will have to wait until the hulks can be inspected.

That inspection may be long delayed. The floor of the lagoon is strewn with radioactive particles of fissionable material.

The technical question involved is whether the underwater bomb blast merely ejected the ballast tanks of the submarines and lowered them from their submerged positions or crushed the hulls and sank them as the surface targets were sunk.

Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy commander of the task force, said an attempt would be made to inspect and raise the submarines if possible. He added that radioactive will be a continuing problem.

The admiral reported that no additional ships are in any immediate danger of sinking. He hopes men will be able to get aboard all surface targets tomorrow to inspect them.

Plane Crashes, Crew is Saved

TOKYO, Aug. 1.—(P)—The Pacific Air Command announced today that a B-29 which was to have participated in an aerial demonstration over Tokyo crashed yesterday between Guam and Okinawa, but that the 13 crewmen parachuted and were picked up by a destroyer.

Life boats were dropped to the 13 from B-17s of the Sixth emergency rescue squadron.

The B-29's commander, Col. E. D. Reynolds (no address available) ordered the crew to abandon the big bomber after one engine caught fire and a propeller went out of control, sending flames back as far as the tail surfaces.

However, when the manager-council government was inaugurated there was a provision that the form of government cannot be changed for six years. When the new constitution is adopted, it will supersede this rule may cause a legal battle on the question.

The petition will be presented the council Monday night.

Under the new state constitution, only 189 signers are necessary to make the petition valid. The constitution says an election must be called in not less than 60 nor more than 90 days.

An injunction was granted the company against the AFL, but yesterday ten AFL sympathizers were cited for contempt after they allegedly had violated the injunction. In addition, the company has asked contempt citations against Otto Bowles, president of Central Labor Union here, and three other AFL leaders.

"Our girls and boys have been chased and molested. They have to keep up their work. Many of them have families to support. We decided to ask the governor if we be some way he might help the police give us more protection."

Acknowledging receipt of the telegram, Governor Donnelly said he planned no action inasmuch as Springfield city authorities had not requested it.

"There has been no breakdown in law enforcement that I know of," the governor said.

Offers Pour in For Family

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 1.—(P)—The future looked brighter today for the wife and four children of GI Joe Sykes who have been living in the open under a tree the last two months.

Help and offers of help have poured in since news stories told of the plight of the family whose soldier-father was killed in action along the Rhine in March, 1945.

Two months ago they moved out beneath a tree near a railroad track here after fire destroyed their home and possessions.

Today groceries were piled high at the spot where the family took living. The Salvation Army took clean beds to them and arranged for the building of a prefabricated house. Cash contributions, too, poured in.

The Veterans Administration, delayed in paying claims because of technicalities, has ascertained that the children are eligible to receive funds. A pension award has been approved for them.

Bangert Grid Star Turns To Opera

BEND, Ore., Aug. 1.—(P)—Wilfred Bangert said today he was quitting the Brooklyn Dodgers of the All American Professional Football Conference for a career as an operatic singer.

He said he had accepted no pay from the Dodgers, training here, and hoped to compete in the next Olympic games.

He said he would be auditioned by the Metropolitan Opera Company. He is a baritone and is to present a concert here tonight.

Japanese Reminded Of U. S. Air Night

TOKYO, Aug. 1.—(P)—Formations of B-29s flew again today over the Japan they terrorized a year ago. And the Japanese came out of their homes to watch them.

It was a reminder to the beaten people of the American air might that could put down any armed protest against the occupation. The superfortresses flew today in observance of air force day.

All over Tokyo, the Japanese looked up at the display of American air might.

Round-the-World Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today authorized Northwest Airlines and Pan American Airways to establish new air routes to Alaska, the Orient, and Australia.

Trans-World Air Lines also received an extension to its international route which, in effect, establishes a second United States Flag round-the-world service.

Change Liquor Order

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—"Yo Ho Ho" the navy has sanctioned the sale of hard liquor to enlisted men on navy property—for the first time since the grog-drinking days of 1862.

The order applies only to naval bases and stations outside the United States and it stipulates that the soft drink fountain must be run with the bar.

Thirty B-29 Superfortresses were ordered out from their Okinawa bases for another flight over the wartime target cities of Tokyo, Yokohama, Hiroshima, and Osaka—this time without bombs.

President Truman accepted an invitation to a dinner here at which General Carl Spaatz, air force commander, was host.

Telegram From Wright

A telegram from Orville Wright, the pioneer aviator who with his brother Wilbur built the army's first aircraft, stood out among congratulations received by the air forces. "Probably no military organization ever had a smaller beginning or a more rapid growth," he said.

Ready to Collect Garbage

General Drivers, Warehousemen and Helpers Union (AFL) as collective bargaining agent for street and garbage department workers.

Mayor Lee Price took the stand in the week-long controversy that the city cannot legally bargain with the union. Gordon L. Shryock, union secretary-treasurer, said he had been empowered to call a strike at any time if collective bargaining rights were denied.

"We are doing everything in our power to avert a strike," the mayor remarked, "but if one should be called we intend to see that garbage is collected."

Chinese Claim Marines Were Aggressors

Yanks Say They Were Ambushed; Three Were Killed

PEIPING, Aug. 1.—(P)—The Chinese communists acknowledged today that regulars of the eighth communist route army fought United States Marines southeast of Peiping Monday, but contended it was not an ambush and that the Marines were the aggressors.

The Marine Corps said three Marines were killed and 12 wounded when a Marine motor convoy was ambushed by 300 Chinese in a highway drive.

The Marine Corps has refrained from identifying the attackers as communists but flatly described it as an ambush. Headquarters added today that 12 of the Chinese were killed and an unidentified number wounded when the Marines defended themselves.

The official New China News Agency and the official communist radio at Yenan gave their version of the battle in a news dispatch and broadcast today, asserting that about 60 marines and 80 national government soldiers "made a surprise attack" on communist positions near the village of Anping Monday morning.

Both Sides Suffered

"Both sides suffered casualties in fighting which ensued when the eighth route troops were forced to resist," it was stated.

When American reinforcements were rushed to the scene from Tientsin, the eighth route troops withdrew to avoid aggravating the clash," communist accounts said.

The communist agencies then launched into a long reiteration of their demands that Americans withdraw from China entirely and said, "We should demand an apology" and disciplinary action from the marines for the Monday battle.
